Thoughts for my family...

As a closing exercise, I would like you to write a letter to be read after your funeral. In this letter you can share some special thoughts and memories with those you love.....

(Here are some ideas to use as a guide for this.)

- Important event that led you to be who you are today
- Memories of when you met your spouse (if married), child's birth, etc.
- Hobbies & past times you enjoyed
- A special hobby or skill you enjoyed with your children and/or grandchildren
- Special memories or events you shared with family
- Your faith & how it influenced you throughout your life
- Special memories of times at church
- Friends who were special to you
- Friendships that have enriched your life by...
- World events that impacted you- wars, assassinations, space travel, (include why they impacted you)
- As you look back over your life, things that made you happy & proud and why...
- As you look at the future, hopes and goals for your family and yourself include:
- Anything else you would like to share with your family when you can no longer speak directly to them.
